Back to "The Oprah. and Back to Life" campaign, which seeks to. 2012/05/19. SerialBack to Life. TheBack to Life series is about people who use an. and quality when it comes to ratings. Hopefully the Back to Life series is only the beginning of a bigger.Though the U.S. economy grew only 0.7 percent in the second quarter (it was an unimpressive 1.1 percent in the January-March quarter), this was partly offset by a downward revision of the third quarter's economic growth to 1.4 percent from 1.9 percent. Several disappointing readings for manufacturing and some other sectors weighed on the estimate. But if you look deeper, the economic trends are probably brightening. Median hourly earnings rose at a 2.6 percent rate in the past year; more than in the past 10 years. Private-sector employment has risen for a year now (the official figure for March, that will be issued on Friday, will include the January-March increases). And GDP growth is likely to accelerate in the coming months. Here are the key things to watch for as we look ahead: 1. The "Fiscal Cliff" The most important economic news of the past week was the second half of a deal to avoid the so-called Fiscal Cliff, a combination of spending cuts and tax hikes set to take effect in just over two weeks unless Congress and the White House can agree on a deal to extend current policy. To forestall an economy-destroying crash into that cliff, the White House and a bipartisan group of congressional leaders released a plan late last week that would extend current policy for two months while keeping current levels of spending and providing the cash
